

Memo/Reply From JOSHUA LEDERBERG

TO:

Isaac Asimov

APR -9 1981

Collubse in aspirals —

according to a piece over your name that I read on Easton (?)
criticizing recently — "Doesn't Exist"

Also, in terminates it does
under the name terminin;
and I believe (but I don't have the reference) that traces have been found in other animal spp.

All which by way of reminder to join me for lunch sometime soon.
If you are agreeable would you call my secretary?

Looking forward,

Did I read you're doing
a book on Genesis?

John

Joshua Lederberg
President
The Rockefeller University
New York, N.Y. 10021
(212) 360-1234

☐ ORIG.
☐ COPY

RETAINED

— REPLY FORM —

" Did I read you're doing "
a book on Genesis?"

Dr. Janet Johnson